Code of Behaviour

The code of behaviour of Scoil Mhaoilíosa, Knockavilla is informed and guided by the document "Developing a Code of Behaviour-Guidelines for Schools" issued by the NEWB (National Education Welfare Board) now TUSLA May 2008. This document complies with all relevant legislation and is underpinned by the Education Welfare Act 2000.

Aims of Code of Behaviour

The code of behaviour aims to achieve three things:

The efficient operation of the school and the structuring of in-class discipline so that there exists an efficient and stimulating learning environment.

The maintenance of good order throughout the school and respect for the school environment.

The development of self-discipline in pupils based on consideration, respect and tolerance for others.

Principles of Behaviour Policy

If the school is to achieve a happy, secure environment in which children can develop to their full potential, it is necessary to provide a framework which promotes constructive behaviour and discourages unacceptable behaviour. The aim is to ensure that the individuality of each child is accommodated while acknowledging the right of each child to an education in a relatively disruption free environment. The school code places a greater emphasis on rewards than on sanctions, and the ideal is that pupils will acquire self-discipline. There are times however when it may be necessary to impose sanctions in order to maintain good order and to discourage offenders. We recognise the importance of a strong sense of community within the school and the existence of a high level of co-operation among teachers, ancillary staff, pupils, parents, the Board of Management and the Parents' Association.

Respect and Courtesy

Pupils need to accept the general order, which is necessary for the class to work well. All pupils are expected to treat staff and their fellow pupils with respect and courtesy at all times.

If your child is upset or worried, please contact the teacher. The teacher is "in loco parentis" for all the children, so both children and parents need to understand that the teacher will be impartial.

Pupils must respect all school property and keep the school environment clean and litter free.

Pupils must have all books and required materials.

Pupils are expected to work to the best of their ability and to present written exercises neatly.

The use of foul language and any form of bullying is unacceptable. It is unrealistic to expect all children to like each other all the time. However, they MUST treat each other with courtesy and respect.

Parents will notice that even in one family, children will have different personalities. Similarly in the classroom situation, there will be many different personalities. There will be the confident, the shy, the sensitive, the outspoken and the quiet child in the class. Even the best of friends may have arguments and parents need to be aware that their child may give a subjective account of events. There are two sides to every story. Learning to work with and mix with all the children in the class regardless of personality traits is a very important life skill.

Any form of behaviour that interferes with the rights of others to learn and to feel safe is unacceptable.

General School Rules

- School discipline is a shared responsibility, which demands the active co-operation of students, parents, teachers and management.

Before resorting to serious sanctions, eg. suspension, the normal channels of communication between school and parents will be utilised. Parents will be involved at an early stage, rather than as a last resort. Class Teachers will record breaches of the code of behaviour in their class on Aladdin and the teacher involved will record any serious breaches of behaviour in the yard in a centralized file.

Inform the student and parents

The school will let the student and their parents know about the complaint, how it will be investigated, and if it could result in suspension.

Parents may be informed by phone or in writing, depending on the seriousness of the matter. This ensures that parents are clear about what their son or daughter is alleged to have done. It serves the important function of underlining to parents the seriousness with which the school views the alleged misbehaviour.

Give an opportunity to respond

Parents and student will be given an opportunity to respond before a decision is made and before any sanction is imposed.

A meeting with the student and their parents will provide an opportunity for them to give their side of the story and to ask questions about the evidence of serious misbehaviour, especially where there is a dispute about the facts. It is also an opportunity for the school to explore with parents how best to address the student's behaviour. If a student and their parents fail to attend a meeting, the Principal will write advising of the gravity of the matter, the importance of attending a re-scheduled meeting and, failing that, the duty of the school authorities to make a decision to respond to the negative behaviour. The school will record the invitations made to parents and their response.

Procedures in relation to immediate suspension

Where an immediate suspension is considered by the Principal to be warranted for reasons of the safety of the student, other students, staff or others, a preliminary investigation should be conducted to establish the case for the imposition of the suspension. The formal investigation should immediately follow the imposition of the suspension. All of the conditions for suspension apply to immediate suspension. No suspension, including an immediate suspension, will be open-ended.

In the case of an immediate suspension, parents must be notified, and arrangements made with them for the student to be collected. The school must have regard to its duty of care for the student. In no circumstances will a student be sent home from school without first notifying parents.

Rewards for Good Behaviour

Pupils are very well behaved most of the time and rewarding good behaviour is an important part of our Code of Discipline. The following strategies may be utilised to reward good behaviour.

1. Note in pupil's homework notebook to convey messages of approval from teachers.
2. Some homework off if particular targets are achieved.
3. Extra privileges such as doing jobs or being shown a DVD.
4. Merit Points.

As a Health Promoting school we are constantly aware of developing the pupils positive mental health and well-being.

By enrolling your child(ren) in the school, Parents(s)/Guardian(s) agree to accept the Code of Behaviour and discipline and undertake to ensure that their child(ren) understand the code and abide by it. In this way parents support the teachers in maintaining order and discipline.

This policy has been reviewed/approved by the Board of Management of Scoil Mhaoilíosa, Knockavilla.
